HISTORY AND EVOLUTION

As we plunged into the twenty first century, new challenges confront us. In order to address these challenges and to emerge as a strong nation, India has to equip herself and National Cadet Corps proved to be the best key. Future of any nation strongly depends on its young human resource. The National Cadet Corps is the outcome of the noble planning India has initiated, to create a human resource that is organized, disciplined, educated and patriotic.

The National Cadet Corps has its Genesis in the University Corps which was created under the Indian Defence Act, 1917, with the vision to make up the shortage in the Armed Forces by providing a second level of defence. In 1920, when the Indian Territorial Act was passed, the University Corps was replaced by the University Training Corps. In 1942, the UTC was renamed as the University Officer's Training Corps. The need to create youth organization at national level to train young boys and girls to be better citizens and future leaders of our great country in all walks of life, including the defence forces was rightly realized by the leaders. Hence a committee under Pandit H N Kunzru was set up in 1964 at the behest of our first Prime Minister, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru. As per the recommendations put forth by the committee, National Cadet Corps came into existence on 16th July, 1948 under the NCC Act XXXI of 1948 under the Ministry of Defence.

The movement was thrown open to both school and college students. The corps started in a small way with a target of only 32,500 Senior Division and 1,35,000 Junior Division cadets. Today, the sanctioned strength stands at 4.33 lakhs for senior division and 7.30 lakhs for junior division cadets. While this figure by itself is quite substantial, it covers only 3.8% of the eligible student population of our country. Notwithstanding thus, the NCC has virtually grown step by step into a matured and glorious organisation keeping the youth in its fold.

The NCC is headed by the Director General, an Army Officer of the rank of Lieutenant General, who is responsible for the smooth functioning of the NCC in the country through the National Cadet Corps Headquarters, situated at New Delhi. At the state level, the country has been divided into 16 directorates covering all states and union territories. These Directorates are headed by an officer of the rank of Brigadier of the Army or its equivalent from the other two services. Each of the state NCC Directorates controls 2 to 14 Group Headquarters, headed by an officer of the rank of Colonel in the army or its equivalent from other two services. In total, there are 91 Group HQs in the country, who exercise control over a network of 658 Army Wing, 58 Air Squadrons. These units are commanded by officers of the rank of Lieutenant Colonel/Major of the Army or its equivalent. In addition, the NCC has two training establishments: Officer's Training Academy Kamptee and Gwalior, where teachers from schools and colleges across the country are specially trained to impart training to the cadets as Associate NCC Officers.

The NCC activities have undergone a sea change from its inception to the present day. From drill and weapon training in the beginning, the spectrum of NCC activities has expanded considerably including games and sports. Training in drill, firing, map reading, first aid in medical emergencies form part of NCC training, of which camp training is the most important part. Community development activities are regularly conducted to make our youth conscious and sensitive towards the needs of their fellow beings. Some of the major social service activities initiated by the Cadet Corps include blood donation, adult literacy, anti leprosy etc.
